

Icons and Idols

Who do you look up to?

In your opinion, why do people have idols?

Idol: a person or thing that is greatly admired,
loved, or revered.

Icon: a person or thing regarded as a representative symbol or as worthy of respect.

The Queen

- The Queen has been the Queen for 69 years. She has four children and the eldest, Charles, is supposed to become the King one day. The Queen is also a grandmother and a great-grandmother. People admire her for her kindness and her dedication to her job.

Adele

- Adele is one of the most famous English singer, song-writers of all time. She is famous for her emotional songs and her incredible voice. She went to a musical theatre school in south London but now she lives in the USA.

Lily Allen

- Lily Allen is another famous singer, song-writer. Lily has been famous since she was just a teenager as her dad is also a public figure. Lily has been praised for her fearless political and feminist lyrics. Many people, especially young women, admire her for her honesty.

James Bond

- James Bond is not a real person, however he is seen in films a lot and it is as though he exists in real life. James Bond is a successful and powerful spy who often ignores instructions and advice from his boss. Bond is admired for 'saving the world'.

Iconic English people include:

- The Queen
 - Adele
 - Lily Allen
 - James Bond (but he is fictitious)
-
- Who are some iconic figures in Spain?
 - What are their life stories?
 - Who do you personally admire? Why?
 - What makes someone Iconic?